12. Educational aims of the programme

As an academic subject criminology is both theoretical and empirical with a primary focus on contested social scientific explanations for crime, victimisation and deviance, and responses to those crimes, by societies and individuals. The inter-disciplinary nature of the subject is mirrored in the construction of the programme. The core discrete modules in criminology are complemented by modules in Applied Criminology and Sociology, prompting shared learning with students from other disciplines.

The Criminology graduate is able to engage with and draw upon a range of intellectual and critical processes in the decisions they make, including the identification and significance of different value positions to everyday practice. This means that they make decisions which are not only rigorously analytical in scope, but also demonstrate active engagement with the different value positions representative of the groups, communities and institutions involved in crime and criminal justice. Ultimately this provides for more effective responses to need in policy, practice, scope and delivery.

More specifically the educational aims of the programme are:

1. To foster a capacity to critically assess evidence from a range of sources, intellectual traditions, and disciplines and to appreciate how crime and responses to crime are continuously reconstructed and changed in local, national and international contexts.
2. To develop a critical understanding of key concepts and theoretical approaches in relation to crime, deviance and victimisation in domestic and international contexts within globalised economies.
3. To foster the capacity to critically assess the influence of representations on responses to crime and victims in official reports, the mass media and public opinion.
4. To develop a critical appreciation of the effect of different, cultural, social and economic backgrounds and value positions in relation to the politics of criminal justice policy and practice.
5. To develop the capacity to apply the principles of human rights and civil liberties which are applicable to policing, to the different stages of the criminal justice process and to all official responses to crime and deviance.
6. To foster rigor in linking theoretical analysis with empirical enquiry and the promotion of a critical approach to problem solving, research and the ethical principles governing subject specific research.
7. To develop graduate and transferable skills relevant to employment promoting autonomous learning, enjoyment and commitment to academic and professional development.

13. Intended learning outcomes and learning, teaching and assessment methods

The learning outcomes take account of the University's Curriculum Design Policy. The content is based on the QAA Subject Benchmarks for Criminology, and the QAA Quality Code.

Knowledge and understanding:

On successful completion of the course students will be able to:

1. Discuss the social origins and historical development of the main institutions involved in policing, crime control, offending, rehabilitation and reduction, including emergent and new forms in the context of different locations, the philosophy and politics of criminal justice.
2. Debate contemporary and alternative theoretical approaches to criminology as a distinct area of study and inquiry and how crime, deviance and victimisation are socially and legally constructed.
3. Evaluate the philosophy and politics of differing policy responses in law and criminal justice.
4. Explain and evaluate institutional responses to representations of victimisation, crime and deviance in the mass media and public opinion.
5. Explain and evaluate the relationship between crime and victimisation, and different communities including globalised communities, and social divisions such as gender, age, class, age, race and ethnicity.

6. Develop a reflective approach and critical awareness of values and how these are situated in culture, politics, biography and social identity, and the impact of these on responses to competing interpretations of policing, criminal and youth justice.

On successful completion of the course students will be able to demonstrate an understanding of:

1. Interdisciplinary and inter-professional approaches to the key concepts and theories of criminal and youth justice, crime, victimisation and deviance and the wider structural and cultural issues.
2. The merits of competing policy responses to crime and deviance within the context of social divisions and the protection of human rights.
3. The role of critical reflection in developing a personal, evidenced based approach to crime, victimisation and the criminal justice system.

Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used:

- The discussion and analysis of competing philosophical, political, theoretical and ideological concepts related to criminology.
- The use of everyday experiences, events and case studies as an integral part of teaching.
- A varied programme of structured lectures, seminars, group work, presentations, group and individual tutorials with e-learning support within the virtual learning environment.
- The consistent application of critical analytic skills such as the ability to evaluate evidence and arguments and to recognise underpinning assumptions and judgments.
- Variety in the form of assignments and the subsequent written and oral feedback.
- Initial tutorial guidance and discussion leading to self-directed, graduated research and project work.
- Contributions to teaching by practitioners and employers where relevant.
- An independent study providing the opportunity for an empirical study, a literature review or critical analysis of a conceptual or theoretical aspect of criminology.

Cognitive and intellectual skills

On successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Identify criminological problems, formulate questions and investigate them deploying a range of research strategies and methodologies.
2. Identify human rights issues and ethical problems in responses to crime, and in the study and research of the subject, in accordance with the guidelines of ethical practice by associated professional bodies.
3. Demonstrate competence in explaining and applying criminological theory and concepts to understand social problems, crime, victimisation, and responses to crime and deviance including representations in the mass media and official reports.

Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used:

- Engagement in discussion and analysis of competing philosophical, political, theoretical and ideological concepts related to criminology.
- The consistent application of critical analytic skills such as the ability to evaluate evidence and arguments and to recognise underpinning assumptions and judgments.
- The extensive use of both quantitative and qualitative primary and secondary data sets in teaching and learning to emphasise the evidence based nature of criminology.
- Deployment of problem solving and decision making skills.
- Module assessments providing the opportunity to reflect on individual and observed practice.
- Use of pre-lecture reading lists to engage students more widely within lectures.

Practical skills relevant to employment:

In addition to subject-specific skills, the study of criminology equips students with combinations of personal and general skills. These skills are often highly transferable and valued by potential employers. They also provide a foundation for continuing and lifelong learning and for active engagement as citizens in the wider life of a society.

On successful completion of the course students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a flexible approach and imagination in seeking solutions to social problems and to take account of their own normative and moral positions, and the values of others, in order to understand how human needs are experienced and met.
2. Collect and manipulate data from reports, documents, and other sources and to evaluate and analyse the information and arguments within an ethical framework.
3. Utilise a variety of media including information technology, to convey ideas and arguments effectively to a range of audiences, and demonstrate the ability to write, discuss and present arguments and ideas using appropriate academic conventions.
4. Work autonomously and organise learning in terms of planning, timing and presentation and reflect on personal and professional development.
5. Demonstrate the ability to collaborate with others including, in research, and problem solving.

Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used:

- The application of research skills as integral to a variety of modules including the Independent Study at level 6.
- The application of theory to practice, critical reflection and self-evaluation through the use of the case studies in assessments.
- The use of group and team work in lectures.
- The use of research data sets to inform teaching and learning.

- The use of discussion and presentations both formatively and summatively.
- The sharing of information in small groups and in the class through presentations and role play.
- Interaction with employers, and other relevant professionals within modules.

Transferable/key skills:

On completion of the course students will be able to:

1. Learn independently and reflect on experiences.
2. Undertake research by gathering, retrieving and synthesizing data, making reasoned arguments and ethical judgments in interpretation of the evidence base.
3. Effectively contribute to team work and build mutually respectful relationships within the context of the multi-professional workplace.

Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used:

- Academic writing conventions are an explicit requisite for successful completion of all assignments.
- The increasing promotion of students as independent learners as the course progresses.
- The emphasis on reflexivity in assessment as a tool for reflection and analysis.
- The use of small group and peer teaching and learning through the course.
- Development of oral and other communication skills by peer and whole group discussion, group and individual presentations to a range of audiences, using a variety of relevant media.
- The requirement to access and use a variety of sources of data, and the submission requirements, which require students to consistently use web based resources.
- Data analysis and numeracy, through the use of relevant data sets in teaching and learning

14. Assessment Strategy

The assessment strategy is designed to enable students to demonstrate their achievement of the course aims and outcomes through meeting the assessed learning outcomes presented in module specifications.

The strategy is designed to assist students with their personal and professional development by enabling them to identify and build upon their strengths and to identify and address areas for improvement. This will be achieved by formative and summative assessment of course learning outcomes and by acquisition of the skills and discipline required of a reflective criminology graduate.

Assessment and moderation strategies are designed to meet the requirements of the University's Assessment Policy and the Institute of Health & Society Moderation and Assessment Policy.

The course assessment strategy takes account of the fact that students gain in confidence and skills during the period of study. Formative assessments that do not contribute to the students' grades are used to help focus the student on themes, knowledge and skills of particular importance to their development. Generally, students receive a gradual decrease in the level of support and guidance offered for summative assessments as they progress through the programme. This both assumes and encourages increased student independence and greater learner autonomy and is reflected in the construction of module learning outcomes.

At level 6 all students complete an Independent Study. Focusing on an aspect of criminology that interests them this may be used as an opportunity to explore an issue in depth or pursue a piece of research that is useful to future practice.

Assessments across mandatory modules are designed to allow students to:

- Develop research and numeracy competency.
- Develop problem solving skills.
- Show knowledge of underlying theories, policies, politics, key concepts and values underpinning criminology.
- Apply theory to practice.
- Show an awareness of other perspectives and viewpoints.
- Acquire progressive academic, practical and transferable skills appropriate to the subject and employment prospects.

Optional modules and their respective assessments provide students with the opportunity to:

- Develop skills in an area of interest to them
- Articulate specialised knowledge in an area suited to their individual needs and present or prospective employment.

See Course Handbook for the Assessment Mapping grid.

Assessment strategies and student support:

There are 8 specific components to the Criminology assessment strategy:

1. A high number of mandatory modules at level 4 with the aim of ensuring that students are appropriately introduced to the field of criminology and criminal justice.
2. Prepared for work within the criminal justice sectors with the knowledge underpinning safe and effective practice.
3. An individualised approach to assessments set where appropriate, meaning the ability for students to reflect individually and independently on issues relevant to them as part of learning.

4. A range of assessment strategies supporting the development subject specific and transferable skills.
5. The incorporation of formative assessment strategies within the module teaching.
6. Differentiation in learning outcomes at level 4, 5 and 6 in terms of the indicated tutor support with progression towards level 6 and independent learning.
7. The graduated development of a research based skills approach to learning and teaching culminating in the independent study at level 6.
8. The use of Worcester Weeks to support student learning and assessment.

The programme does not employ e-learning as a dedicated assessment strategy. However, it is used to support student progress and enrich the learning environment. Strategic use of modular assessments utilising e-learning have been introduced. Blackboard, Pebble pad and email are consistently used by staff to support student activities and to provide materials, on line discussion, feedback and contact.

Grade descriptors matched to module assignments are included in the module descriptor. The grade descriptors provide students with the know how to improve their grades as part of the overall feedback given by the module tutor.

15. Programme structures and requirements

The BA Criminology is offered as single and joint award and is designed to be studied, full or part-time, over three years or six years respectively.

The mandatory module/s taken at each level for the award have been carefully selected to ensure that BA (Hons) Criminology can be awarded. As a consequence, there are some modular pre-requisites. Inter-disciplinary learning is identified by module codes: CRMN denotes Criminology, PSYC Psychology, APHS Applied Health and Social Sciences and SOCG denotes Sociology.

Students studying this award will share some modules with students studying the BA Applied Criminology programme enhancing shared learning opportunities for both cohorts. In addition, students on both programmes will participate in similar shared learning opportunities offered during Worcester weeks.

Single Honours Requirements at Level 4

Single Honours students must take 120 credits in total to include CRMN1001 CRMN1004, CRMN1005 and SOCG1101.

Single Honours students may also choose to take elective modules to the value of 30 credits from the listing of elective modules provided for undergraduate degree programmes, or take additional modules from the table above to the value of 30 credits.

Joint Pathway Requirements at Level 4

Joint honours students must take CRMN1001, CRMN1004 and CRMN1005.

Module Code	Module Title	Credits (Number)	Status (Mandatory (M) or Optional (O))				Pre-requisites (Code of Module required)
			SH	Maj	JH	Min
CRMN 2002	Theory, Research and Practice: Developing a Criminological Perspective	30	M	M	M	O	None
SOCG 2110	Social Change, Gender, Crime and Globalisation	30	M	M	O	O	None
CRMN 2103	Media and Crime	15	M	O	O	O	None
CRMN 2106	Prisons and Punishment	15	O	O	O	O	None

SOCG 2107	Housing and Homelessness	15	O	N A	N A	N A	None
SOCG 2105	Campaign Power	15	O	N A	N A	N A	None

Single Honours Requirements at Level 5

Single Honours students must take 120 credits 90 of which must be drawn from the table above to include CRMN2002; SOCG2110; CRMN2103; and one option module from CRMN2105, CRMN2106, and CRMN2108.

Single Honours students may also choose to take elective modules to the value of 30 credits from the listing of elective modules provided for undergraduate degree programmes, or take additional modules from the table above to the value of 30 credits.

Joint, Major and Minor Honours Requirements at Level 5

Students following Joint Honours pathways can adjust their studies at level 5 to take more modules in one subject or can maintain an equally balanced programme of modules in each subject. The precise award title (Joint Hons or Major/Minor Hons) depends on the total number of credit achieved in each subject at levels 5 and 6 – for further information see the table at the end of this document.

Major Pathway Requirements at Level 5

Major Pathway students must take at least 60 and no more than 90 credits from the table above to include CRMN2002 and SOCG 2110

Joint Pathway Requirements at Level 5

Joint pathway students must take at least 45 credits and no more than 75 credits from the table above to include CRMN2002

Minor Pathway Requirements at Level 5

Minor Pathway students must take at least 30 credits and no more than 60 credits from the table above to include CRMN2002 or SOCG2110

Module Code	Module Title	Credits (Number)	Status (Mandatory (M) or Optional (O))				Pre-requisites (Code of Module required)
			SH	Maj	JH	Min
CRMN 3001/3002	Independent Study	30	M	M	O	N A	CRMN2002
CRMN 3105	Children, Young People and Crime	30	M	O	O	O	None

SOCG 3104	Response to Crime: The Justice Process	15	O	O	N A	N A	None

Single Honours Requirements at Level 6

Single Honours students must take 120 credits to include CRMN3001/2 and CRMN3105 plus 4 optional modules from the table above.

Joint, Major and Minor Honours Requirements at Level 6

Students following pathways in two subjects can adjust their studies at level 6 to take more modules in one subject or can maintain an equally balanced programme of modules in each subject. The precise award title (Joint Hons or Major/Minor Hons) depends on the total number of credit achieved in each subject at levels 5 and 6 – for further information see table at the end of this document.

Major Pathway Requirements at Level 6

Major Pathway students must take either 75 or 90 credits from the table above to include CRMN3001/3002 plus the remainder from optional modules.

Joint Pathway Requirements at Level 6

Joint pathway students must take 45, 60 or 75 credits (to make at least 105 credits over levels 5 and 6 in the subject, and no more than 135 credits over levels 5 and 6 in the subject), from the table above.

Joint pathway students who choose to take their Independent Study (equivalent) in this subject must take CRMN3001/3002 plus 30 or 45 credits from the table above Joint pathway students who choose to place their Independent Study in their other joint subject must take 60 or 75 credits from the table above.

Joint pathway students must take one Independent Study (equivalent), either in this subject, in their other joint subject, or take JOIN3001/2 or JOIN3013 where an Independent Study covers both joint subjects.

Minor Pathway Requirements at Level 6

Minor pathway students must take either 30 or 45 credits from the table above.

Credit requirements for awards involving two subjects

In determining whether an award derived from two subjects is Joint Honours (subject 1 and subject 2) or Major/Minor Honours (subject 1 with subject 2) credits taken in each subject at levels 5 and 6 will count as follows:

Subject 1	Subject 2	Award
120	120	Joint Hons
135	105	Joint Hons
150	90	Major/minor Hons
165	75	Major/minor Hons
180	60	Major/minor Hons

16. QAA and Professional Academic Standards and Quality

The QAA Subject Benchmark for Criminology can be found at:

<http://www.qaa.ac.uk/en/Publications/Documents/Subject-benchmark-statement-Criminology-14.pdf>

The subject benchmarks for Criminology provide the foundation for the course learning outcomes, informing the structure of the whole programme plus the development of individual modules. The course is located at level 6 of the FHEQ.

17. Support for students

General Approaches to Support

The fundamental approach to student support is centred on the need to motivate and inspire students. Acknowledging that students learn in different ways and also have different expectations of their learning experience, that some respond best to a 'traditional' lecturing approach whilst others are motivated by learning and teaching contextualised in a practical, or an academic context, or respond to academic research and theory, the Criminology modules provide a range of approaches designed to engage with a breadth of student abilities. In addition, recognition is given to the need for active learning where students are invited to participate in learning activities, and also to reflect (at a meta-cognitive level) on their individual learning processes.

Course based activities and documents:

- A week long induction programme for all entrants.
- Criminology Handbook.
- Module outlines for each module including module code, title, level, learning outcomes, grade descriptors, teaching activities, timetable, attendance requirements, assessments criteria and reading lists.
- Additional Guidelines for the Independent Study in Criminology.
- A personal academic tutor responsible for pastoral and academic support and guidance.
- A module leader as a first reference point for academic queries.
- Student representatives on the Course Committee

In addition, level 4 students are provided with a skills development handbook providing the foundations for on-going self-monitoring of both personal and professional development.

Student Induction

Welcome week within the Unit of Health and Social Sciences consists of a week of social and academic activities in preparation for university level study. As a part of this process there will be opportunities for students to meet and get to know other students and their tutors, to become familiar with the University and their course of study.

Students meet their personal academic tutors and representatives from Registry, ILS, Student Services and the Students' Union. Information on course structure, content, resources and student support is provided. The range of activities over the week enables students to develop relationships with their peers and tutors, learn about University services and engage in team building activities. Included are:

- Meeting Student Liaison and student representatives (StARS).
- Talks on employability and international study-abroad options.
- Team building activities
- Visit to The HIVE.
- Meet with module leaders and Personal Academic Tutors.
- Hands-on sessions on UW computer systems, library, software.
- Student Union activities.
- Talks by Registry, ILS, librarians, student services

Personal Academic Tutoring

Each student has a nominated Personal Academic Tutor to provide academic advice and guidance, personal development planning and pastoral support as appropriate. The Personal Academic Tutor plays a significant role in enhancing the student's academic and personal experience of studying and key aspects of the role include:

- Assisting students to make the transition to studying in higher education.
- Helping students to understand the requirements of their course.
- Supporting students to take responsibility for their own learning.
- Helping students to make the most of learning resources and other forms of support available.
- Supporting students in academic, professional and career related planning and development.
- Advising and guiding students on issues or problems that arise while they are at University.
- Supporting students for whom there may be particular challenges.
- Meeting students on a regularly scheduled basis. Individual meeting will be held throughout the academic year, and the Personal Academic Tutor will provide group meeting times during Worcester and/or Induction Weeks.
- Tutors will advise students on individual course options, module selection and academic planning.

The academic skills handbook is integral to the structure and purpose of the individual and group meetings.

International Visits and Study Abroad

All students have the opportunity to study abroad through the International Office. Students from this programme are encouraged to take up any opportunities offered to visit and/or make contact with international students.

18. Admissions

Admissions Policy

The University aims to be accessible; it is committed to widening participation and encouraging diversity in the student population. No student will be subjected to less favourable treatment on grounds of race, ethnic or national origins, colour, gender, sexuality, parental status, marital status, disability status, creed, political belief or social or economic background. The programme works closely with central student support services including the Admissions Office, the Disability and Dyslexia Service and the International Centre to support students from a variety of different backgrounds. We actively encourage and welcome people from the widest range of economic and cultural backgrounds and value the contribution of mature learners.

Entry requirements

The University's standard entry requirements apply: 4 GCSEs at Grade C or above plus a minimum of 2 and maximum of 3½ A Levels or equivalent Level 3 qualifications. The current UCAS Tariff requirements for entry to the course are published in the prospectus. See UW Admissions Policy for other acceptable qualifications.

Recognition of Prior Learning

Details of acceptable level 3 qualifications, policy in relation to mature students or applicants with few or no formal qualifications can be found in the prospectus or on the University web pages. Information on eligibility for recognition of prior learning (RPL) for the purposes of entry or advanced standing is also available from the University web pages or from the Registry Admissions Office (01905 855111).

Further information on Recognition of Prior Learning can be found at University of Worcester welcomes applications from mature students. Mature students, who fulfil the standard entry requirements as detailed above, apply through UCAS. Students with few or no formal qualifications are asked to contact the Admissions Office with details of the work they have undertaken, including caring or organised voluntary work, and any other relevant experience and/or qualifications gained since leaving school. An advisory interview will be arranged to discuss possible options. These options include an Access course or Foundation Year at a local Further Education College or an Exploratory Essay and interview, where appropriate.

Admissions procedures

The University encourages applicants to attend University visit days and in addition an open event is held for all course applicants. On these occasions applicants will have the opportunity to meet one another and the teaching team who provide 'taster' teaching events.

Details of this event are provided on confirmation of the offer of a place.

Full-time applicants apply through UCAS:

Part-time applicants apply directly to University of Worcester (UW)

Admissions/selection criteria

The course team welcome applicants who have experience of the broad criminal justice sector who have allied personal experience, or have a particular interest in policy structure and processes.

The admission of students is based on the reasonable expectation that the applicant will be able to fulfil the objectives and achieve the standard required for the award for which they are registered. Applicants will be selected according to their qualifications (actual or predicted) at A levels or equivalent, or through the mature entry route as noted above.

Support for disabled students can be negotiated through the Disability Co-ordinator who works from the Disability & Dyslexia Service at <http://www.worcester.ac.uk/student-services/disability-and-dyslexia.htm>. Early contact is advisable to ensure appropriate levels of support from the outset of the student's course.

The University recognises the importance of the provision of accurate and appropriate pre-entry information and support to prospective students in order to ensure that all applicants are given every opportunity to choose courses in an informed manner and to be admitted to a suitable course.

19. Methods for evaluating and improving the quality and standards of teaching and learning

The course will be subjected to the University of Worcester Quality Assurance Processes. The quality of course learning and teaching will be monitored continually. Performance data will be collected through a number of mechanisms to provide evidence against prescribed quality standards.

Evaluation Mechanisms will include:

- Annual review of the quality of the course (Annual Evaluation Reports – AER).

- External Examiner reports.
- Student evaluation of modules.
- Cross moderation of assessment.
- Course Management Committee.
- Module Moderating.
- New staff mentoring system.
- Educational Development Unit promotes learning and teaching across the institution.
- Peer observation of teaching by staff.
- Academic staff annual appraisal.

Quality and Standards Committees:

- Institute of Health and Society Quality Committee.
- Course Management Committee.
- Academic Standards and Quality Enhancement Committee.
- Institute of Health and Society and University Ethics Committees.
- Learning, Teaching and Student Experience Committee.

Mechanisms for gaining student feedback:

- Module feedback questionnaires.
- Feedback from Student Academic Representatives (StARs).
- Feedback from Practice Based Learning opportunities.
- Meetings with module tutors and Personal Academic Tutor.
- National Students Survey.
- Induction, exit and other ad hoc surveys.

20. Regulation of assessment

The course operates under the University's Taught Course's Regulatory Framework

Requirements to pass modules:

- Modules are assessed using a variety of assessment activities which are detailed in the module specifications.
- The minimum pass mark is D- for each module.

- Students are required to submit all items of assessment in order to pass a module, and in some modules, a pass mark in each item of assessment may be required.
- Some modules have attendance requirements.
- Full details of the assessment requirements for a module, including the assessment criteria, are published in the module outline.

Submission of assessment items

- Students who submit course work late but within 5 days of the due date will have work marked, but the grade will be capped at D- unless an application for mitigating circumstances is accepted.
- Students who submit work later than 5 days but within 14 days of the due date will not have work marked unless they have submitted a valid claim of mitigating circumstances.
- For full details of submission regulations see <http://www.worcester.ac.uk/registryservices/documents/TaughtCoursesRegulatoryFrameworkwork.pdf>

Retrieval of failure

- Students are entitled to resit failed assessment items for any module that is awarded a fail grade, unless the failure was due to non-attendance.
- Reassessment items that are passed are graded at D-
- If a student is unsuccessful in the reassessment, they have the right to retake the module (or, in some circumstances, take an alternative module).

Requirements for Progression

- Students at Level 4 may be permitted to progress to Level 5 when they have passed at least 90 credits at Level 4.
- Students at Level 5 may be permitted to progress to Level 6 when they have passed at least 90 credits at Level 5.
- A student who fails 90 credits or more due to non-submission will be required to withdraw from the University.
- Students who pass less than 90 credits but have submitted all items of assessment will be required to retake modules.

Requirements for Awards

Award	Requirement
Cert HE Criminology	Passed 120 credits at Level 4 or higher
Dip HE Criminology	Passed a minimum of 240 credits with at least 90 credits at Level 5 or higher
Degree Criminology (non-honours)	Passed a minimum of 300 credits with at least 90 credits at Level 5 or higher and a minimum of 60 credits at Level 6
Degree with honours Criminology	Passed a minimum of 360 credits with at least 90 credits at Level 5 or higher and a minimum of 120 credits at Level 6

Classification

The honours classification will be determined by whichever of the following two methods results in the higher classification:

Classification determined on the profile of the best grades from 60 credits attained at Level 5 and the best grades from 120 credits at Level 6. Level 5 and Level 6 grades count equally in the profile.

Classification determined on the profile of the best grades from 120 credits attained at Level 6 only.

For further information on honours degree classification, see the <http://www.worcester.ac.uk/registrieservices/documents/TaughtCoursesRegulatoryFramework.pdf>

21. Indicators of quality and standards

The staff team are all involved in research, scholarly activity, or professional development of some kind. In addition, some are involved in consultancy, Knowledge Transfer Innovation and Exchange (KTIE) and a Learning and Teaching (L&T) project. All have professional practice of some nature in their background with tutors associated with the named awards having appropriate practitioner experience. Student achievement and awards profiles within the Institute of Health and Society generally mirror the mean for UW with a consistent few achieving first class honours in each year.

The University underwent a QAA Institutional Audit in March 2011. The audit confirmed that confidence can be placed in the soundness of the institution's current and likely future management of the academic standards of its awards and the quality of the learning opportunities available to students. The audit team highlighted several aspects of good practice, including the student academic representative (StARs) initiative, the proactive approach which supports the student experience for disabled students, the comprehensiveness of the student online environment (SOLE), the wide range of opportunities afforded to students to enhance their employability, the institution's commitment to enhancement, and the inclusive approach to working with its collaborative partners.

22. Graduate destinations, employability and links with employers

Graduate destinations

Criminology graduates have the possibility of a range of opportunities available to them, including direct entry into the employment market on completing their course of study. The majority of graduates go to work in:

- Probation;
- Prison services;
- the voluntary sector;
- third sector organisations and social enterprises;
- law enforcement agencies such as the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) or the police;
- further or higher education.

Other jobs which are related to the degree are:

- Social researcher;
- Civil service administrator;
- International aid/development worker;
- Charity officer;
- Advice worker;
- Local government administrator.

The course is also highly relevant for those wishing to pursue post graduate study in a related subject area. Graduates of the degree are well prepared for higher or professionally accredited study such as the Masters in Social Work (with a 2:1).

For students studying a joint degree Criminology and Psychology, British Psychological Society (BPS) accreditation is not applicable.

Student employability

University of Worcester graduates on programmes allied to Criminology such as Social Work have between 80% and 90% employability rate within the sector, higher than the national averages.

The course team encourage students to gain experience through voluntary activities in the UK and abroad

Students interested in becoming employed as researchers or wish to study at post graduate level, are encouraged to take advantage of the opportunities offered to become student researchers within the University

Students are also positively encouraged to take advantage of the various UW career events, and participate in appropriate University employability events.

Links with employers

The programme has been written in co-operation with West Mercia Probation Trust (WMPT) and other regional providers. WMPT ceased to exist in 2014 and has now been replaced by the Warwickshire and West Mercia Community Rehabilitation Company. The University continues to work with this organisation in the development of the programme and is in the process of developing links with the police and prison services.

Service practitioners and managers contribute to the specialist teaching on the programme providing unique insights to work in the sector, and also opportunities for students to meet prospective employers.

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in the module outlines and the course handbook provided to all students at the start of the course. The accuracy of the information contained in this document is reviewed by the University and may be checked by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education.
