12. Educational aims of the programme

The programme aims to educate trainee teachers to meet the Teachers' Standards (2013) for Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and the Ofsted \(2015\) ITE Inspection Framework provide the opportunity to gain 60 credits at Master's level.

At the heart of good teaching is the desire to promote learning, and the love of learning. Nothing is taught until it is learnt. To achieve this, the programme aims to develop teachers who are:

- skilled and inspirational subject specialists;
- confident and reflective practitioners;
- effective communicators who can work in partnership;
- informed intellectuals who promote a love of learning;
- resilient professionals able to demonstrate high standards of personal conduct.

All trainees are registered on the level 7 route where they are expected to complete assignments that meet the learning criteria as defined by the University's Taught Courses Regulatory Framework. Some trainees, in consultation with subject tutors, may opt to take the level 6 award with descriptors defined by the level 6 FHEQ: bachelor's degree with honours.

13. Intended learning outcomes and learning, teaching and assessment methods

Each programme enables all trainees to become autonomous learners. The programmes are designed to support trainees of varying experiences, needs and background; develop their key/transferable skills; disseminate good practice in learning and teaching and monitor the quality of the trainee experience.

Training enables trainees to acquire the knowledge and skills they need to teach within the phase for which they are training. All trainee teachers teach pupils aged 11-16 with post 16 enhancements apart from Business, Business with Economics and Psychology trainees who teach pupils within the 14-19 age range. All trainees engage with the expectations, curricula, strategies and teaching arrangements in the age ranges immediately before and after the ones they are trained to teach.

All successful trainees will meet the Teachers' Standards' (2013). This postgraduate programme with QTS is designed to meet specific requirements laid down by the TRA and against which judgements by OFSTED inspections are made. This is assessed via a professional practice module (PSEC3000) that has a 0 credit rating towards the PGCE qualification but is a compulsory component to achieve the recommendation for QTS.

All trainees are required the opportunity to spend at least 120 days in two contrasting schools/colleges.

Learning, teaching and assessment

Teaching

Programme design underpins the Meeting the Teachers' Standards (2013) and the Framework of Core Content for ITE \(July 2016\).

Each programme incorporates a range of teaching, learning and assessment methods including lectures, workshops, peer group activities, seminars, directed reading, independent research, directed study, presentations, tutorials and school experience.

Trainees experience specialist subject training to develop the necessary knowledge and understanding of their subjects and related pedagogy, which will enable them to teach their subjects across the full age and ability range of training.

Schools and further education settings in the partnership play a crucial role in designing training that provides the range of experiences that trainees need. 'The cream of the talent' from within the partnership, alongside subject specialist tutors, provide taught experiences to give trainees a breadth of experience and provide them with opportunities to demonstrate all the Teachers' Standards

In addition, meetings with Personal Academic Tutors (subject tutors) are scheduled before and after every teaching placement. Tutors also visit trainees in school to quality assure the process and offer tutorial support.

The University places emphasis on enabling students to develop the independent learning capabilities that will equip them for lifelong learning and future employment, as well as academic achievement. A mixture of independent study, teaching and academic support from Student Services and Library Services, and also the Personal Academic Tutoring system enables students to reflect on progress and build up a profile of skills, achievements and experiences that will help them to flourish and be successful.

Contact time

Every trainee is given the opportunity to experience at least 120 days (total) in at least two contrasting schools. In addition trainees spend time in the University and/or partner school.

Teaching staff

Trainees are taught by a teaching team whose expertise and knowledge are closely matched to the content of the modules on the course. The team includes tutors with Qualified Teacher Status and extensive school experience. The expertise of university tutors is very strong, and informed by recent and relevant pedagogical research. This ensures coherent links are made between subject-specific and pedagogical training to enable trainees to link theory to practice.

Many tutors have an academic writing profile having written or published books. They also present at conferences and deliver high quality CPD. Teaching is informed by research and consultancy, and 14 of lecturers on the course have a higher education teaching qualification or are Fellows of the Higher Education Academy.

Assessment

The course provides opportunities to test understanding and learning informally through the submission of 'formative' submissions. Each of the two level 7 modules has one or more formal or 'summative' assessment which is graded and counts towards the overall module outcome.

14. Assessment strategy

The design of the postgraduate assessment strategy has been determined by the following considerations in line with the University Assessment Policy:

- That the approach to assessment of the course has been considered holistically
- Assessments when taken together ensure all of the course learning outcomes are tested.
- The need to complete the programme and professional requirements including meeting the level 6 and level 7 academic criteria as set by FHEQ.
- To ensure that assessment is aligned with the learning outcomes
- To provide diversity of assessment modes and tasks (see 'Examples of learning, teaching and assessment methods used in the table below).
- To provide formative assessment opportunities. Where two or three items of assessment are more appropriate for a module trainees receive feedback on one before they submit the next.
- Where different criteria are used for two assessments in one module then a minimum pass grade must be achieved in both assessments.
- Arrangements are made for moderation of assessments to ensure equivalence in terms of demand (both academically and in terms of trainee effort) across modules.
- All elements of assessment link to school based professional practice and are cross-referenced to the Teachers' Standards (2013).

Examples of assessment used:

Module	PSEC3000 Meeting the Teachers' Standards (0 credits)	PSEC3002/4002 Developing teaching and learning (30 credits)	PSEC3003/4003 Evidence informed teaching (30 credits)
Assessment task 1	Submission of a (digital) portfolio hyperlinked to a series of tasks linked to the Teachers' Standards (DfE 2013) plus a viva voce	Learning resource 1,500 words equivalent (40%)	Critical literature review (2,000 words) (65%)
Assessment task 2		Reflective commentary 2,500 words (60%)	Digital presentation 1,500 words equivalent (35%)

A grid showing assessment methods and weightings mapped to modules at each level, together with an assessment calendar of submission dates are included in course handbook.

15. Programme structures and requirements

Despite the discrete nature of the modular structure, all content is seen both as a continuum and intertwined. It is revisited in increasing detail as the programme progresses and with ever more specific links to the teaching practice as this develops. The curriculum is thus spiral in its form.

The programme monitors, evaluates and moderates all aspects of provision through detailed self-evaluation leading to rigorous development planning to secure improvements in the quality of training and the assessment of trainees.

The course is framed by the Professional Studies programme. This teaches generic, whole-school issues such as behaviour management, assessment and aspects of 'meeting pupils' needs'. Subject studies build on this and provide specific exemplification of these areas as well as pedagogy.

The course is designed to allow for 2 different routes:

- A Postgraduate Certificate of Education with Qualified Teacher Status (60 credits at Level 7); and
- A Professional Graduate Certificate of Education with Qualified Teacher Status (60 credits at Level 6, or 30 credits at Level 6 and 30 credits at Level 7).

In addition all trainees must be able to demonstrate that they have met all of the Teachers' Standards and have taught in 2 contrasting schools across the age range of training in order to be recommended for QTS

Trainees who are unsuccessful in passing the QTS professional elements, but who successfully complete all postgraduate elements, will be awarded 60 credits at Level 7 to gain the Postgraduate Certificate in Educational Studies.

The programme complies with all current legislation relevant to ITT including:

- Initial Teachers Training \(ITT\) criteria: supporting advice

16. QAA and professional academic standards and quality

The course is bound by the Teachers' Standards \(2013\); and has been mapped to the FHEQ qualification descriptors.

17. Support for students

The University has an Equal Opportunities Policy, together with equality schemes and action plans promoting equality in relation to race, disability, gender, age and sexual orientation. Progress in implementation is monitored by the Equality and Diversity Committee. The Disability Service within Student Services provides specialist academic and other support on a one to one basis, makes recommendations for reasonable adjustments to teaching and assessment based on individual need and works with disabled trainees to allow them to manage their own learning development.

The following roles, activities and documents provide support for trainees on this programme:

- Programme Leader.
- Subject tutor.
- A nominated personal academic tutor to provide pastoral support, academic advice and guidance, and assistance with personal development planning, as appropriate.
  - Course Handbook. All materials are also on the virtual learning environment (VLE).
  - An Assessment Handbook that includes module outlines, module codes, module title, level, planned teaching activity, attendance requirements, assessment brief, assessment criteria and reading lists.

- Learning and study guides, including assessment guidance, Partnership Handbook (for Schools) available for trainees and mentors and Meeting the Teachers Standards Booklets
- Student Services provide a range of support including: programme advisers; finance, welfare and accommodation advice, and additional Study Guides. This includes the Disability and Dyslexia Service in the University.
- Trainee representation on the Course Representative Committee and Course Management Committee to address course-wide issues. These take place in each separate teaching institution. The programme has an Institute Representative.
- Registry Services and the student online learning environment (SOLE page) provides details of modules, registration and results.
- Induction includes library, media and facilities.
- Library Services supports trainees, staff and local community on & off campus and in The Hive including education specific subject guides.
- Partners provide additional support which is responsive to individual trainee requirements, such as additional academic and pastoral support.

18. Admissions

Admissions follow the Initial Teacher Training \(ITT\):criteria and supporting guidance from the Department for Education.

Admissions policy

Each PGCE programme - Core, School Direct (Training) and School Direct (Salaried) - seeks to recruit suitably qualified graduates within the subjects offered. Legislation does not specify that trainees must have a degree in a particular subject or discipline. It is the standards for QTS that specify the subject knowledge required for the award of QTS. Consideration is therefore given to graduates with extensive and relevant work experience.

The University of Worcester and partners welcome applicants from under-represented groups including those with disabilities, including those with specific learning difficulties and/or mental health difficulties. The programme celebrates diversity, equality of opportunity and widening of access for disadvantaged groups.

Entry requirements

- A standard equivalent to a grade C/level 4 in the GCSE examinations in English Language and mathematics*
- A first degree of a United Kingdom higher education institution or equivalent qualification

*It is the standard, not the certificate that matters. Applicants who are otherwise suitable but, for whatever reason, have not successfully achieved a GCSE grade C/level 4 may be given an opportunity to show that they can nevertheless meet the required standard, either by taking a University of Worcester equivalence test or by offering other evidence of attainment, which should demonstrate a similar level and breadth.

See Admissions Policy for other acceptable qualifications.

Essential
Usually an honours degree 2.2 or above or an equivalent
Usually a degree at least 50% subject-related. Additional experience in a work -related field will be considered
Usually A-levels /equivalent in appropriate subjects for the subject(s) to be taught.
Good range of GCSEs/equivalents
Clearly written personal statement
Positive reference. Where possible at least one reference based on knowledge of the candidate in an educational setting or training role
GCSE English language and mathematics/equivalents at grade C/level 4 or above before the start of the course
The professional numeracy and literacy skills tests must be passed before the start of the course

Statutory guidance, Safeguarding Children and Safer Recruitment in Education, requires providers to ensure that entrants on all routes, including salaried schemes, have been subject to an enhanced Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) criminal record check including a check of the children's barred list. In addition, all trainees will also be subject to a Prohibition List check. Registry keeps records showing that trainees have met the requirements of these checks. Additionally, the University obtains references and certificates of good conduct from the relevant authority overseas in respect of trainees who have spent time living overseas (those taught at UW only). It is the sole responsibility of partners to carry out these checks for the trainees that they recruit.

An applicant's health and physical capacity to teach are also assessed via the pre-enrolment health questionnaire (those taught at UW only). It is the sole responsibility of partners to carry out this check for the trainees that they recruit.

Selection criteria (for UW core and School direct)

All entrants, as part of the selection procedures, take part in a rigorous selection process designed to assess their suitability to teach. This includes assessment relating to:

1. Subject and curriculum knowledge – applicants are expected to demonstrate an in-depth awareness of their specialist subject and how it may be taught, provide clear evidence of having researched the subject and breadth and depth of subject and curriculum knowledge.
2. Aptitude for teaching – applicants are expected to demonstrate evidence of being self-reliant and able to take a lead role when working in a team. They should show a high level of resilience and an ability to manage stressful situations. They should also be a confident and articulate communicator both verbally and in writing.

Applicants who are selected attend a face to face interview conducted by two key people selected from tutors, mentors and classroom teachers. During the interview process the interviewees are required to complete a written task which is assessed. Other interview activities may include a presentation and/ or group task. For those being interviewed in a school it is likely that the applicant will be required to teach a group of pupils and/or answer questions from a pupil panel.

19. Regulation of assessment

The course operates under the University's Taught Courses Regulatory Framework

Requirements to pass modules

- Modules are assessed using a variety of assessment activities which are detailed in the module specifications.
- The minimum pass mark for level 7 modules is D- for each module.
- At level 6 modules are pass or fail
- Trainees are required to submit all items of assessment in order to pass a module, and in some modules, a pass mark in each item of assessment may be required.
- Full details of the assessment requirements for a module, including the assessment criteria, are published in the module outline.

Submission of assessment items

- Trainees who submit course work late but within 7 days (one week) of the due date will have work marked, but the grade will be capped at D- unless an application for mitigating circumstances is accepted.
- Trainees who submit work later than 7 days (one week) of the due date will not have work marked unless they have submitted a valid claim of mitigating circumstances.
- For full details of submission regulations please see the Taught Courses Regulatory Framework.

Retrieval of failure

- Trainees are entitled to resit failed assessment items for any module that is awarded a fail grade.

- Reassessment items at level 7 that are passed are capped at D-.
- If a student is unsuccessful in the reassessment, they have the right to retake the module (or, in some circumstances, take an alternative module); the module grade at level 7 for a re-taken module is capped at D-.
- A student who fails 60 credits or more after exhausting all reassessment opportunities may be required to withdraw from the University.
- A student will be notified of the reassessment opportunities in the results notification issued via the secure student portal (SOLE). It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and comply with any reassessments.
- A trainee who fails school experience has the right to one reassessment if a suitable placement can be found. If a placement cannot be found the trainee is required to withdraw from the University.

20. Graduate destinations, employability and links with employers

Graduate destinations

Due to the nature of the programme this course has a high employment rate. As an indicator consistently over a 5 year period over 95% of trainees have secured jobs in teaching.

Trainees are supported in ensuring they are highly employable in a variety of ways. These include:

- Attendance, and making presentations, at national conferences;
- Delivering master classes in schools;
- Meeting with panels of head teachers; and
- Becoming STEM Ambassadors.

There are also six optional enhancement activities (EAs) for those trainees following the PGCE at UW which provide an emphasis on:

- Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND);
- Citizenship;
- English as an Additional Language;
- Technology Enhanced Learning;
- Second Subject;
- Aspiring Leaders.

All optional enhancement activities (EAs) are combined with the subject pathways as detailed in the UW Course Handbook.

Links with employers

Schools play a significant, and often leading, role in the design and delivery of the training provision. The management structure of the course demonstrates the central role schools play in all aspects of provision. For example, over 100 partnership schools host placements, provide taught sessions both in school and university and are involved in interview panels for prospective candidates. In addition, selected school mentors are members of the partnership advisory group, course management committee and work as course moderators. Mentors in school are also central to the assessment of trainees for the award of QTS.

A partnership agreement sets out the roles and responsibilities of each partner. The agreement is underpinned by other practices, such as well-understood procedures for communication between partners and agreed arrangements for the co-ordination of the training.

Please note: This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if s/he takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of each module can be found in associated course documentation e.g. course handbooks, module outlines and module specifications.
